Scoring Options

Scoring will have two options. The first one will be the stock one. On that one you will score by portfolio average growth (%) in each category (tech, real estate, crypto, etc) for the week. The other option is for you to be able to choose to score by total portfolio worth (total $$ for the week)

Option #1 Scoring (with %) goes as follows:

Demetrius Team		Miles Team
Tech (up 4% this week)	vs	Tech (up 6% with week)
Real Estate (up 10% this week)	vs	Real Estate (up 7% this week)
Crypto (up 2% this week)	vs	Crypto (up 5% this week)
5.33% (avg) growth for the week		6% (avg) growth for the week *WINNER

* only an example full lineup will have all of the stock categories. Their total % growth in each category (tech, real estate, financials, etc) for the week will be averaged out to find the winner for the week.

Option #2 Scoring (with $) goes as follows:

Demetrius Team	Miles Team
Tech (+$278)	Tech (-$636)
Real Estate (+363)	Real Estate (+727)
I Crypto (+$172)	Crypto (+$727)
= +$813	= +$818 WINNER

Pretty simple you just total all of your money from each stock in your lineup.

Company Draft Day & Draft Kit

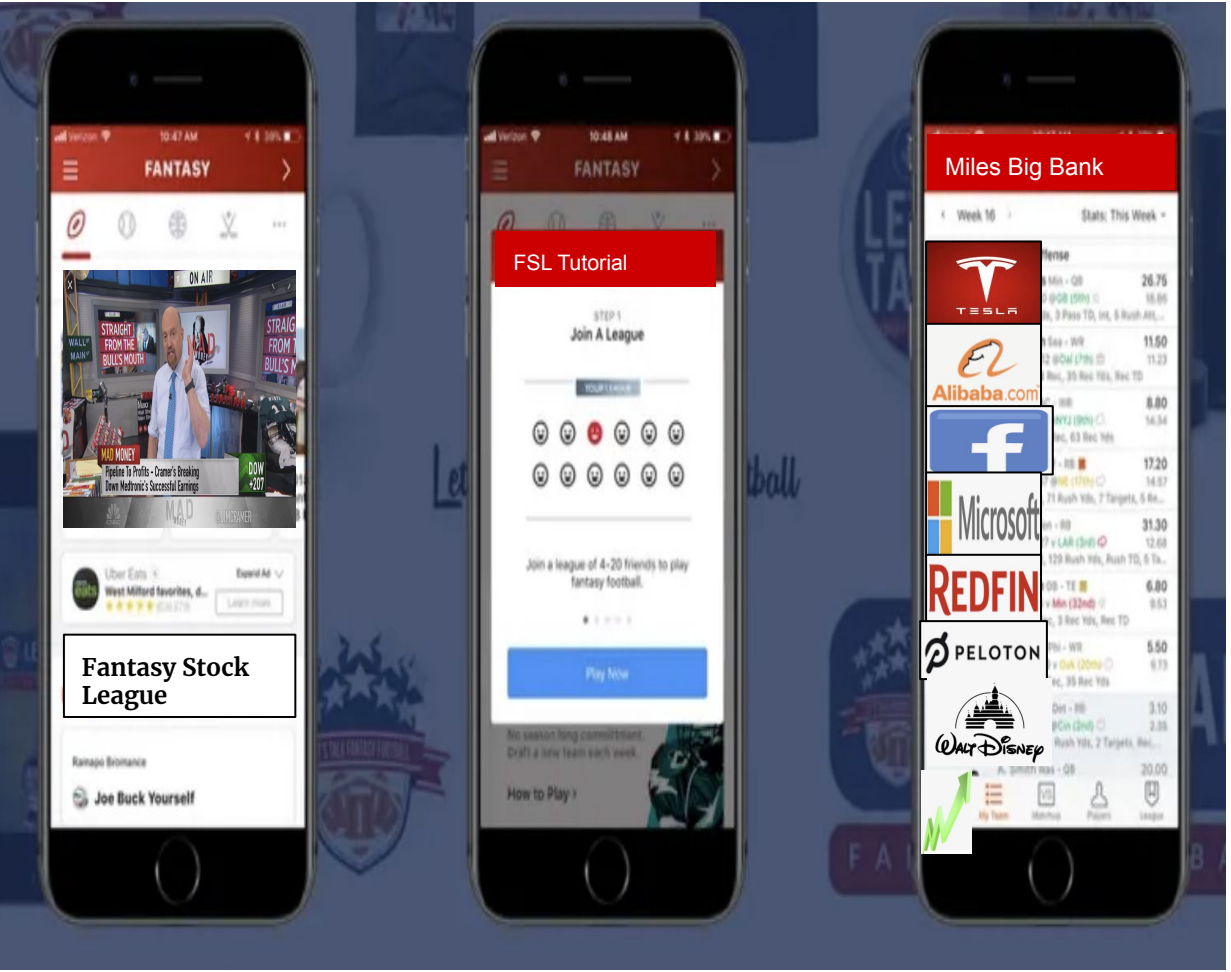

Finance Fantasy League ---2021 Draft Kit

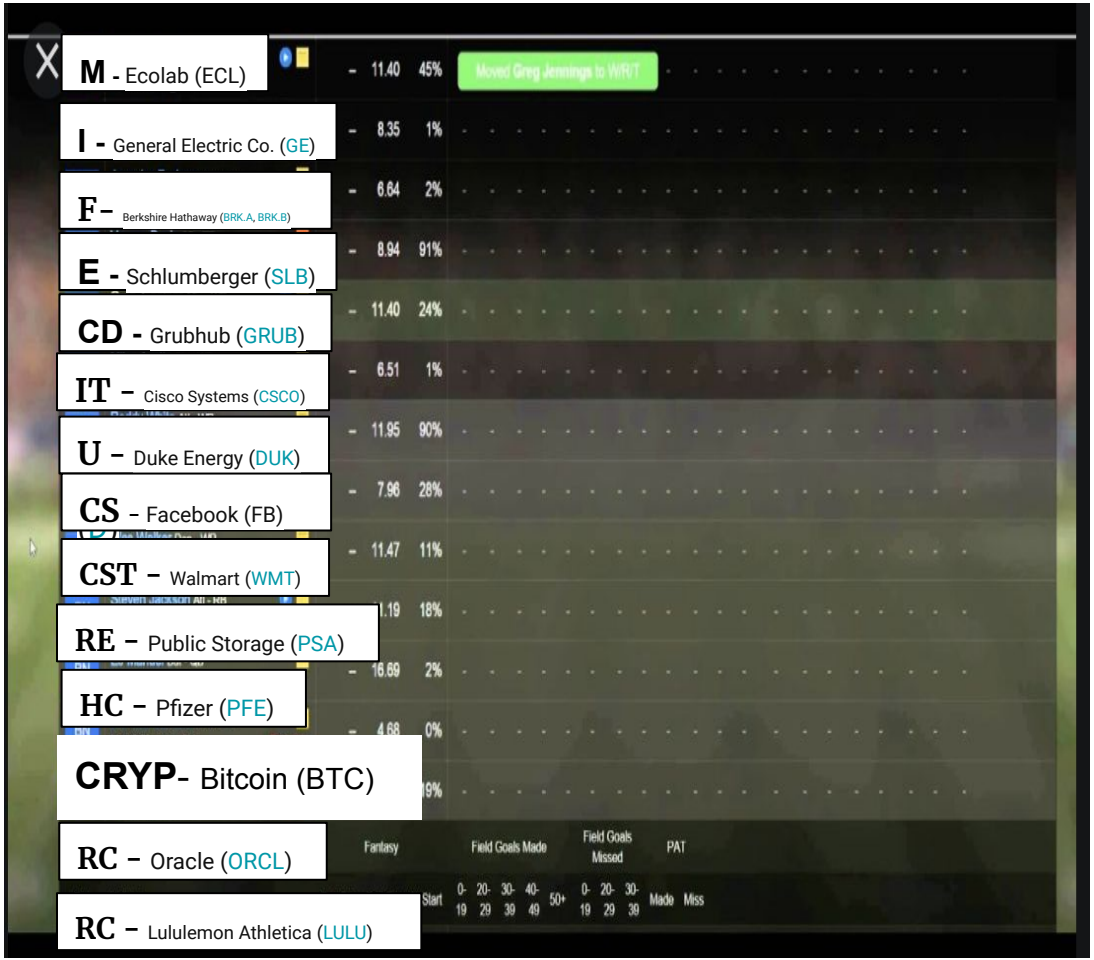

- 10-20 teams participate in a multi round draft for companies with a 1-2 minute time limit per pick.
- You would select the countries stock market you're playing with.
- 'Top Companies' Draft Kit for beginners.
- Ability to draft "Legacy Companies" that you keep for 3 years.

Main Basic Pages:

- My Portfolio or Team Page- Your list of companies where you select your weekly lineup
- Company Versus Page- both competing companies lineup is displayed
- ADD/Delete Companies or Players Page- add and drop companies. There should also be data pulled from the league showing what trend are happening in regards to other add and drops in the league
- League or Stock News Page- updated stock and world news that would help with companies or player selections for the present and future. Draft page and league commissioners tools would be found on this page

Company Versus Page

Players select Companies that fill in their weekly teams. They will have a full line up as well as some bench or ‘Reserve Companies’ to choose from. Depending on that companies performance in the stock exchange they will be given points that will fluctuate daily. Final score is locked in that Friday at the end of trading *according to the: New York Stock Exchange, NASDAQ, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Shanghai Stock Exchange, Hong Kong Stock Exchange, London Stock Exchange, Euronext, Shenzhen Stock Exchange, Toronto Stock Exchange, Deutsche Boerse

Betting Page

1. Token Purchase and Commission

- Token Purchase: Users purchase tokens from our platform to place bets.
- Commission Structure: A percentage of each token purchase would go to our platform as a commission. You could structure this as a flat percentage or introduce tiered commissions based on the amount of tokens purchased.
- Stock Betting
    - Categories and Predictions: Similar to the sports betting format, users can bet on stock price movement (higher or lower) within specific categories, such as Crypto, Financial, Real Estate, etc. This could align with existing categories in your lineup, giving familiarity to the players.
    - Betting Periods: Players can bet on the performance of individual stocks for a set period, such as weekly.
    - Public Board: Players can propose bets to a public board to find challengers outside of their own leagues. This makes it possible for players to interact with and compete against a broader pool of users.

3. Social Interaction & Matchmaking

- In-League Betting: Enable players within a league to place head-to-head bets, which could foster community interaction.
- Public Betting Board: The public betting board allows users to create bets on stock outcomes that any platform member can accept, broadening the engagement.

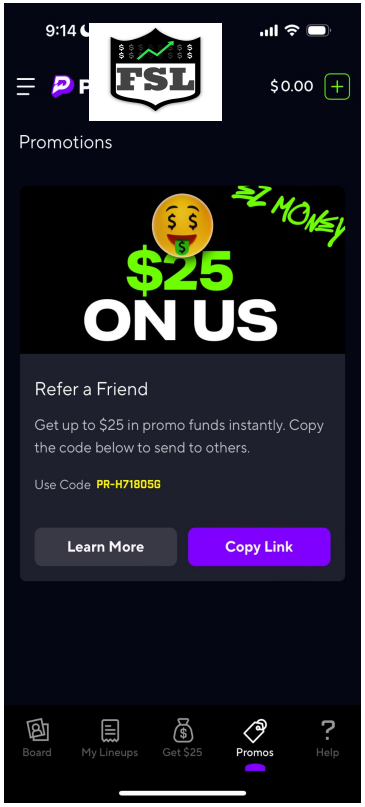

4. Payouts and Rewards

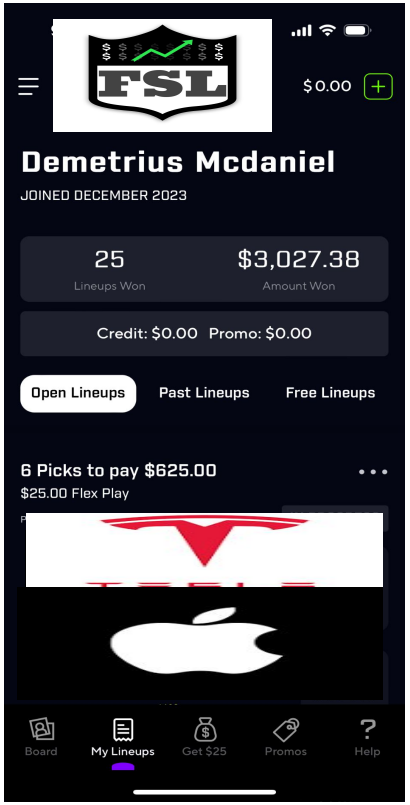

- You could offer different payout structures based on betting periods (e.g., weekly wins vs. season-long wins), with longer-term bets potentially having higher rewards.

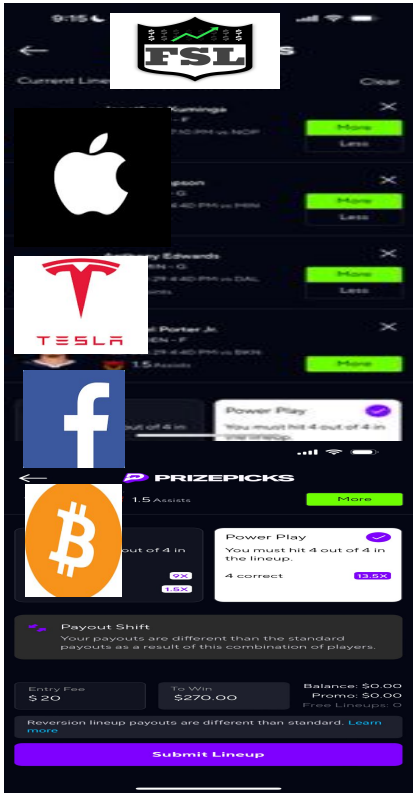

Prop Betting Screens For Reference *not including head to head betting. See “Company Versus Page” for where teams bet head to head.

The whole idea is that team pick a stock and bet (tokens) on it to go higher or lower for a set amount of time.

1. Introduce a Tiered Token Purchase System

- Volume Discounts: Offer discounts or bonus tokens for purchasing higher volumes (e.g., buy 100 tokens, get 10 free). This incentivizes users to buy larger amounts upfront.
- Token Expiration: Set an expiration for unused tokens to encourage active usage. You could even offer incentives (e.g., bonus tokens) for tokens purchased right before the expiration date.

2. Incentivize Long-Term Betting (Season Bets)

- Higher Payout Multipliers: Offer higher payouts for season-long bets compared to weekly or monthly bets, increasing the appeal of long-term wagers.
- Combination Bets: Allow players to create "parlay" or multi-bet options that bundle several predictions for a potential higher payout. This attracts risk-tolerant players willing to make larger bets.

3. Introduce Fees for Public Board Matches

- Match Fee: Charge a small fee for bets placed through the public board, as these likely have higher engagement and visibility.
- Winning Fee: Alternatively, or additionally, take a small percentage of the winning payout for bets placed on the public board. This taps into the popularity of broader betting, adding to profitability without deterring players too much.

4. Premium Features for High-Tier Users

- Premium League Membership: Offer a premium subscription where players pay monthly for access to exclusive betting features, such as higher wager limits, reduced fees, or early access to bet options.
- Exclusive Betting Options: Allow premium users to bet on unique or high-profile events and offer special bonuses, encouraging players to upgrade.

5. Add "Flash Bet" Opportunities

- Introduce limited-time “flash bets” around key events (e.g., major stock market openings or sports games) with a very short betting window. Flash bets can create a sense of urgency and encourage players to place more frequent, smaller bets.

6. Leverage AI for Personalized Betting Suggestions

- Use an AI recommendation system that suggests bets based on user behavior, trends in stock or sports performance, and the user’s past activity. These insights can increase engagement and encourage users to place more frequent, informed bets.

7. Encourage Social Features and Competition

- Leaderboards: Introduce leaderboards for highest earnings, most successful bets, or longest winning streaks, offering small rewards or tokens. This encourages more consistent engagement.
- Referral Program: Offer incentives for referrals, such as tokens or fee reductions, to increase the user base. Larger networks often lead to more frequent bets, especially in inter-league settings.

8. Data Analytics for Market Adaptation

- Continuously analyze betting patterns, user behaviors, and engagement metrics to identify areas of growth or underperformance. By understanding which bets or features yield the most profit, you can optimize offerings and marketing strategies accordingly.

Implementing a combination of these strategies can effectively increase user engagement and spending, while fees and premium options provide additional revenue streams, ultimately boosting the platform’s profitability.
